

Conditions for Adding Comments

What is the purpose of comments on this website?

The purpose of the comments is to share experience with phone numbers both annoying (mainly telemarketing, surveys) and useful (e.g. couriers, authorities). Their purpose is not, however, to comment on phone numbers of natural persons.

Who can add comments to phone numbers?

Comments can be added by users over 16 years of age. They must, however, follow the Rules for writing comments.

How do we handle comments?

We reserve the right to delete or edit comments, primarily to make our content better. The most common reason for a comment to be edited or deleted is a breach of the Terms of Comment Posting.

Inappropriate comments are searched for in three ways:

- by automated processes – we keep improving our system detecting comments that might violate our Rules for writing comments,
- by checking comments randomly,
- by getting feedback from our website users who report suspicious comments.

Rules for writing comments

The comments published on the website express the opinions of their users, not the operator who is not responsible for their content. Yet we do not want to give platform to vulgarisms, insults and other kinds of inappropriate content. We try to keep the forum to the point and civilized.

We will not tolerate incitement to hatred towards individuals or groups of people, especially based on nationality, race or religion. Vulgar or obscene posts will be deleted.

It is also forbidden to misuse the opinion forum to spread advertisement and spam, as well as to publish posts or links not relevant to the topic.

Posting identical comments, i.e. flooding, is not allowed either. Chatting and posing as somebody else is also forbidden.

The author of a comment undertakes not to publish a comment which:

- contains profanities or is hateful towards another person,
- attacks or targets an ethnic group, race, nationality or religious group,
- is homophobic, transphobic, sexist, offensive or obscene,
- is abetting,
- is illegal,
- contains spam or is duplicate,
- links to a suspicious website or a website irrelevant to the discussion topic,
- violates copyright or trademark,
- is propagandistic or political,
- can be considered a hoax,
- is written in a foreign language,
- contains personal data according to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

In case of violation of these conditions, we reserve the right to prevent a given user from adding comments or accessing the site altogether.

Validity of the conditions
